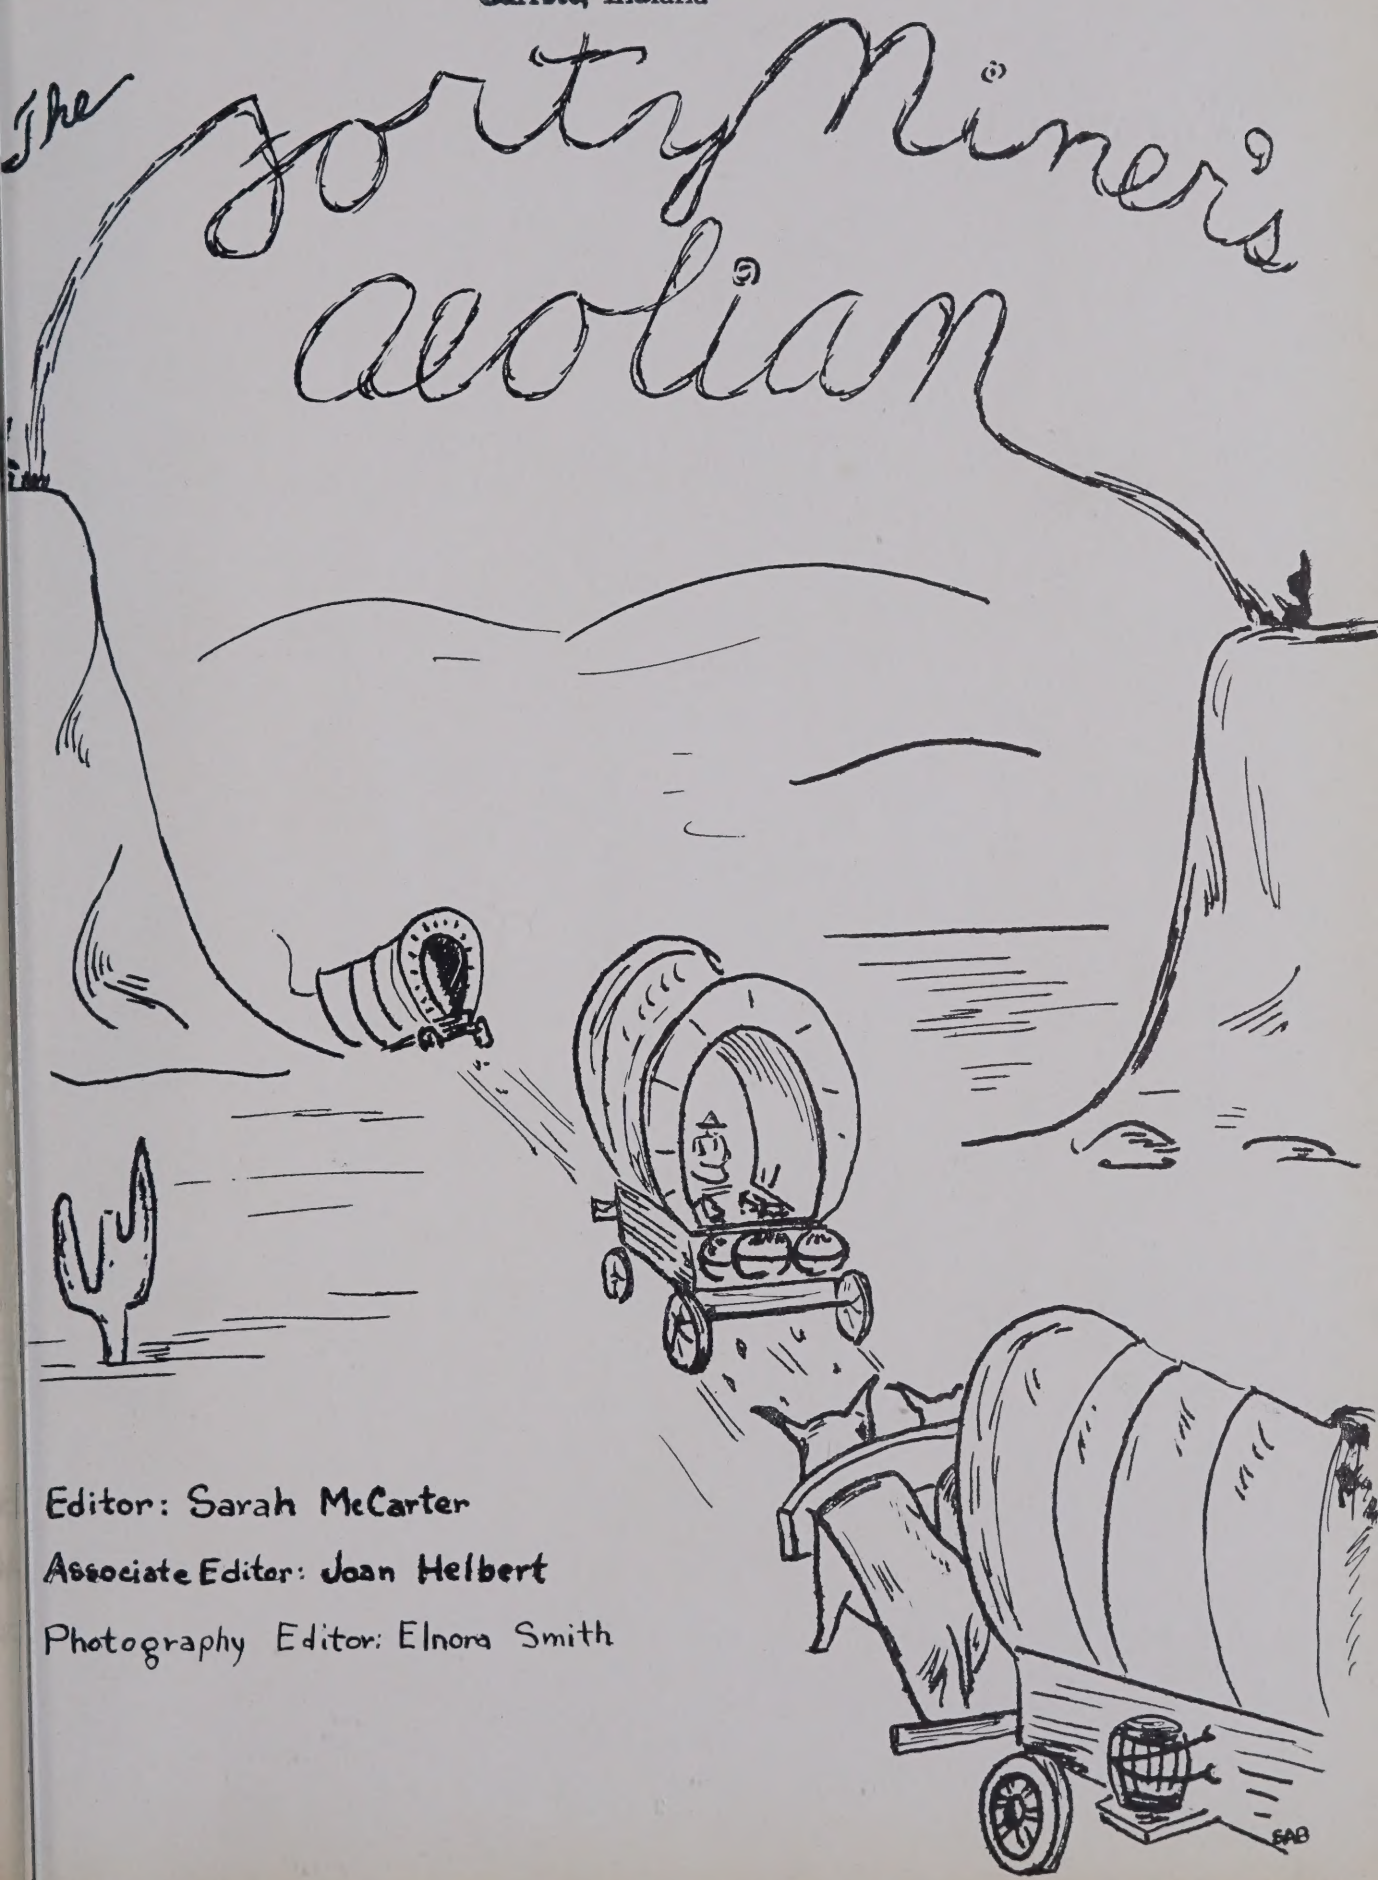
The Forty Niner's Aeolian



Editor: Sarah McCarter

Foreword

GATEWAY TO LIFE—

In the pioneer days the slogan was "Gateway to the West" Today we say, "The gateway to life is the main entrance of the school."

To meet what lies ahead
What e're it may be—
We leave our school
To you who follow.
May you be enriched
From the gold mine
As we have been
The Class of '49.

Dedication

To the daring, conquering spirits who blazed the trails before us, to the bold adventurers who braved the perils of the trail, to those who at "trail's end" sweated, and toiled, and "struck it rich"—to the Spirit of the American Pioneer, the 49'ers dedicate this Aeolian.

"For we cannot tarry here,
We must march my darlings, we must bear the brunt of danger
We the youthful, sinewy races, all the rest on us depend,
Pioneers! O pioneers!"

. . . Walt Whitman

"Announced by all the trumpets of the sky,
Arrives the snow, and driving o'er the fields,
Seems nowhere to alight: the whited air
Hides hills and woods, the river and the heaven,
And veils the farm-house at the garden's end.
The sled and traveller stopped, the courier's feet
Delayed, all friends shut out, the housemates sit.
Around the radiant fireplace, enclosed
In a tumultous privacy of storm."

Why the frowns? How's the skating, Mr. Rose? How do you rate, Shanny? Who are you mad at, Fuzzy? A newcomer to our school, Mr. Myers. What you got in your mouth, Carl?

COURTESY

Carolyn Stroh: "Say, what's the idea, you wearing my raincoat?"
Berniece Stroh: "Well, you wouldn't want your new suit to get wet, would you?"
Douglas Zimmerman: "The girl I marry must have a sense of humor."
Woodrow Trostle: "Don't worry, she will!"
Barbara King: "Did you have a date at the basketball game?"
Jessica Lewis: "Yes, who won?"

NOT GUILTY

Mr. Woodcox: "I wish you wouldn't whistle at your work."
Frank Mossberger: " I wasn't working, sir."
Miss Evard was mailing the old family Bible to her brother in a distant city. The postal clerk examined the heavy package carefully and inquired whether it contained anything breakable. "Nothing but the Ten Commandments," was her quick reply.

WHO IS HE

Coach Parks, instructing boys at Auburn game: "Now get in there and shoot like mad!"
Tom DeWitt: "Which one is mad?"

HONESTLY SPEAKING

Fensie, when filling out an application came across this question: "Have you ever received an unexcused absence from school?" She put down the correct answer, "No." The next question was, "Why?" So she wrote: "Never got caught.""
Mr. Bateman: "We will now name all the lower animals in their order, beginning with Dale Yarde."

CUSTOM

"When you have finished your lecture," said Mr. Sherman, "bow gracefully and leave the platform on tiptoe."
"Why tiptoe?" queried Elnora Smith.
"So as not to waken the audience," replied Mr. Sherman.

Mr. Harman, to mischievous Duke Harper: "Sit down in front."
Duke Harper: "Sorry. I'm not made that way."

Mr. Minniear: "There will be only a half day of school this morning."
Glenn Warfield: "Whoopee! Hurray!"
Mr. Minniear: "Silence! We'll have the other half this afternoon."

CLASS POEM

S is for sureness of thought, word and deed;
E is for effort, the foundation of our creed;
N is for natural which we found we must be;
I is for ingenuity, which we needed, you see;
O is for oneness in all that we've done;
R is for rightness in our work and our fun;
S is for strength to maintain these ideals.

—Joan Carlin.

Class History

As adventurous pioneers, we set out to find gold. Our year was spent getting acquainted with all the new miners and adjusting ourselves to our new trails. Eagerly we trudged through the year which was started by a party given to us by the sophomores.

Becoming prospectors with one year of searching behind us, we continued searching. We got our miners' badges (class pins), had a sophomore party and attended our first formal dance.

Then, as gold diggers, we really kept the mining going. We purchased our class rings; sold pop, potato chips, and candy at games, during the noon hour, and after school. Last, but not least, we presented the seniors with the Junior-Senior banquet and in return they gave us a picnic.

Then as forty-niners we found our gold, having had to face the usual senior problems. We chose our class motto "From School Life Into Life's School"; our class flower, mums; class colors, gray and cardinal; and selected class sweater, gray and cardinal; made year book plans, and presented a class play, "Bottoms Up". Ending our most succesful year in G. H. S. was the banquet given by the juniors and the picnic we seniors gave in return.

We have, not only a diploma as our gold, but also friendships and memories that will never die. So we say, "Good bye, good-luck to you, and may your days be as happy as the ones we've been through".

The Gold Diggers, Prospectors, and Pioneers, whose goal it is to reach the "top", graduation, are well on their way to the end of that goal. The Gold Diggers have only one year before they can don their caps and gowns. The Prospectors are looking forward to being future "Gold Diggers" of G. H. S. and the Pioneers are just struggling along patiently until they can reach their goal, which is only four years ahead.

Dear Old G. H. S. Don't shame them Billy, they can't help it! 1947 style! What poise? Auburn vs. Garrett, Y-Teen style. Catcher Bloom. My girls, how you've changed! Indigestion, Sarah? Bet Charlie uses pepsodent! Y-Teen all (?) Nut Band. Why Elly Smith! Well, we were freshmen once! Batters up. Well now! Cowboy Putt! Last year's picnic. Stop. Why Delores? Baby Janet Engle. Come and get it. Peek-a-boo!

Underclassmen

The Gold Diggers, Prospectors, and Pioneers, whose goal it is to reach the "top", graduation, are well on their way to the end of that goal. The Gold Diggers have only one more year before they can don their caps and gowns. The Prospectors are looking forward to being the future "Gold Diggers" of G. H. S. and the Pioneers are just struggling along patiently until they can reach their goal, which is only four years ahead.

Juniors -- Gold Diggers

The name "Gold Diggers" fits the Juniors perfectly for they are definitely the ones that do the most work during the school year. Their mines are the concession stands at school and at the football and basketball games. These mines yield wealth which was used principally for the super banquet that everyone enjoyed so much.

The Juniors gave treasures to the whole school in their after-game dances and gained treasures for themselves in their beautiful class rings.

Under the leadership of President Wayne Diederich, Vice-President Phyllis Leech, and Secretary Douglas Shull, and the class sponsors—Mr. Bateman, Mrs. Faulstick and Mrs. Sweeney they were steered safely through their third year of school.

The Juniors are looking anxiously forward to next year when they will reach the greatest treasure of all—graduation. We, the Seniors, wish to say "Good Luck."

Sophomores -- Prospectors

The Prospectors have almost reached their pot of gold. They really have been an ambitious group with Bill Leech at the head, aided by George Wappes and George Tuttle. The two years ahead are really something to look forward to and these Sophomores have the necessary equipment to make the most of them.

Mr. Rahmer and Miss Thrush have been a great help in preparing these students for the remaining years at G. H. S. They have found nuggets of joy at their parties such as the Christmas party and the barn dance

Their ambition and wholehearted co-operation will be a valuable asset to G. H. S. in the coming years.

Freshmen -- Pioneers

Scouting into new fields the Pioneers have opened the way of adventure. With chief scout Tom Diederich to guide them they have progressed greatly and have discovered a new vein of gold, the second year of high school.

Trailing along with the chief scout is Pat Lonergan, Vice President, Barbara Moss, Secretary, and Gloria Mossberger, Treasurer giving their aid whenever needed.

After getting along the path heading for the mine they set aside time for entertainment.

For further advice and direction they have turned to the more experienced leaders, the sponsors: Mr. Woodcox, Miss Gump, Miss Evard and Mr. Nipple.

These Pioneers will be a great aid in helping the up and coming Freshmen and their experiences will be beneficial to G. H. S.

Mr. Rahmer was irritated by some one whispering during economics recitation. "Silence," he thundered. "I want it so quiet in here I can hear a pin drop." There was supreme silence for an instance. Then Alvina Molargik piped up: "Well, let her drop!"

Mrs. Sweeney: "I look deep into your eyes and what do I see?"
Basil Rowe: "Pupils."

Mrs. Schlecht: "Bookkeeping is a healthful job."
Joan Helbert: "How is that?"
Mrs. Schlecht: "You get so much exercise running up and down the column."
Joan Helbert: "Ha! Ha! But sometimes I lose my balance."

The problem of cheating was being discussed in Miss Gump's sales class. "If you can cheat and live with yourself, that's your business."
"I find that I can cheat and live with myself much better than I can fail and live with mother," replied John Walter.

TRAVELER

Barbara Curie: 'During the summer I went on a long trip. First of all, I went to southern Indiana by popular demand."
Susan Warfield: "Who demanded it?"
Barbara: "The people of northern Indiana."

Jim Shaw's Dad: "I don't see why you couldn't have inherited a little of my brains!" Jim's father stormed at him, "what did the teacher keep you in for tonight?"
Jim: "I didn't know where the Azores were."
Dad: "Well, after this, just remember where you put things."

CUTTING IT SHORT

Marcine Ashenfelter: "I wrote an article on fresh milk, and Miss Evard condensed it.

A NOISY PREPOSITION

Miss Thrush: "Take this sentence: 'Take the cow out of the lot.' What mood?"
Sharon DePew: "The cow."

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK

Mr. Hellison: "Bob, every time you leave home I get another grey hair."
Bob: "Gee, Dad, what a corker you were! Look at Grandpa!"

If cherries blossom
Will Martha Bloom?

If Joan was bad
Would Delores Boester?

If Melvin delivers
Will Warren Hall?

If a horn honks
Will Bill Putt?

Poor little Dickie Kruger—
Won't be seeing him any more;
What he thought was H20
Was H2SO4 (sulfuric acid)

When Bob Dawson applied for a driver's license, the clerk thrust a paper across the desk. "Write your last name first and your first name last," he said hurriedly. "How's that again?" asked Bob somewhat confused. "Like I said," replied the officer, "Backwards." Bob shrugged his shoulders. After all they knew what they wanted. Laboriously he wrote: "boB noswaD".

What's the outcome? "49" class-rings. Whatcha got there girls? Smiling five. Great day of picnic. Bright boy! Don't strain yourself, Howard! Bathing beauty. Representatives of National Education Week. Camera shy Tom and Charlie! Watch the birdie. Sleeping beauties. Match them up. Study time!

Scouts

Under the leadership of Mr. Coble and Mrs. Fouch, the young scouts, the seventh-graders, have become acquainted with the new paths and trails of the high school. Being inexperienced, they were led over the rough spots safely by their social, moral, and ethical training. These seventh-graders are anxiously lookiing forward to scouting the harder trails next year.

The eighth-grade "Scouts" have been one of the most active groups in school. Their many activities have kept them busy and they will remember them long after hitting the end of the trail.

The future holds much for these energetic students. Along the trail they have been given the chance by their leaders, Mr. Myers and Mr Harman, to delve into many adventures, to learn the various intricacies of nature and human nature, and to cope with problems and situations of our complex society

NERVOUS

Janet Engle: "They are not going to cut me if I go to the hospital, are they?"

Marilyn B.: "Of course not, when you're for a rest. What makes you think they are?"

Janet Engle: "Well, when I phoned at the hospital, a voice said, 'Operator' ".

It was the end of the scene; the heroine was starving. "Bread!" she cried, "Give me bread—" and the curtain came down with a roll.

Jack Thrush: "How do you like children?"

Bill Putt: "Well-done."

Martin Woodcox: "I would buy lot to make you happy."

Jacqueline Roberts: "Vacant or occupiel?"

SILLY QUESTION

Judy Schulthess: "Been to Latin Class this morning?"

Dolores Hollis: "Do my clothes look as if they'd been slept in?"

Trail-Blazers

Although being small in stature and having only a few years of experience to their credit, the Trail-Blazers occupy a vitally important spot in our school system. These Blazers start out on the first day of school with a new and untried world before them. Each year they gain in experience and knowledge until they find their way to their first destination—Junior High. To assure them of health, wealth, and wisdom, their especially trained leaders continually guide encourage, and keep them on the adventurous trails. The blazers range all the way from the first graders, who take care of the small easy paths, to the sixth graders, who spread out and investigate the more complicated trails.

To help fortify these young citizens for the day's events, and to develop strong girls and boys to break through when the going is rough, they enjoy milk and crackers each morning at rest period.

There is no end to the activities. Each class has done many things which will stand out in their memory long into the future. One of the main events was the annual spring concert in which these young citizens displayed publicly their efforts and talents.

The Trail-Blazers are working and studying hard, looking forward to the time when they will have explored all the territory in the grade school and will move on to a new and bigger territory—the high school.

Trail-Blazers

The "Trail-Blazers" are going to be the future pioneers, prospectors and '49ers of G. H. S. They are quickly learning the ways of "blazing" life through the reading of books and the active participation in their different class room projects. Under the capable guidance of Mr. Ober, Miss Lois Cobler, Miss Alice Hall, Miss Mary Dean, Miss Helen Ellert, Mrs. Doris Stuck, and Mr. Ralph Manrow, they are assured the best of luck on their adventure.

Observing the attraction between Sandra Mae Funk and William Fermuth, the teacher warned, "You must study harder. How would you like it if you had to stay in this class and little Sandra got ahead of you?"

"Well," he replied, "I guess there'll be other little Sandras."

REALLY

Miss Ellert "Now let's take a simple problem. In front of you is the east, to your left the north, and to your right the south. What have you behind you, James Faisure?"

James: "A patch on my pants. I told mother you'd see it."

PARTY MANNERS

Pat Beck's mother was briefing her before she returned her little friend's call. "If they instruct you to stay for dinner," mother instructed," say, 'No thank you. I have dined:" But during the visit the friend's father said, "come along, my dear, and have a bite with us." Patty replied, "No t..ank you, I have already bitten."

THEY WILL YET

Eugene Farrington, "I can't get these 'rithmetic examples. Teacher said something 'bout finding the greatest common divisor. Dad (in disgust) "Haven't they found that thing yet? Why, they were hunting for it when I was a boy."

CUSTOMER'S ALWAYS RIGHT

"Harry, said Miss Hall," do you know your alphabet?"

"Yes" said Harry Jackson.

"Well, then, what letter comes after "A" asked Miss Hall.

"All of 'em," said Harry, "All of 'em."

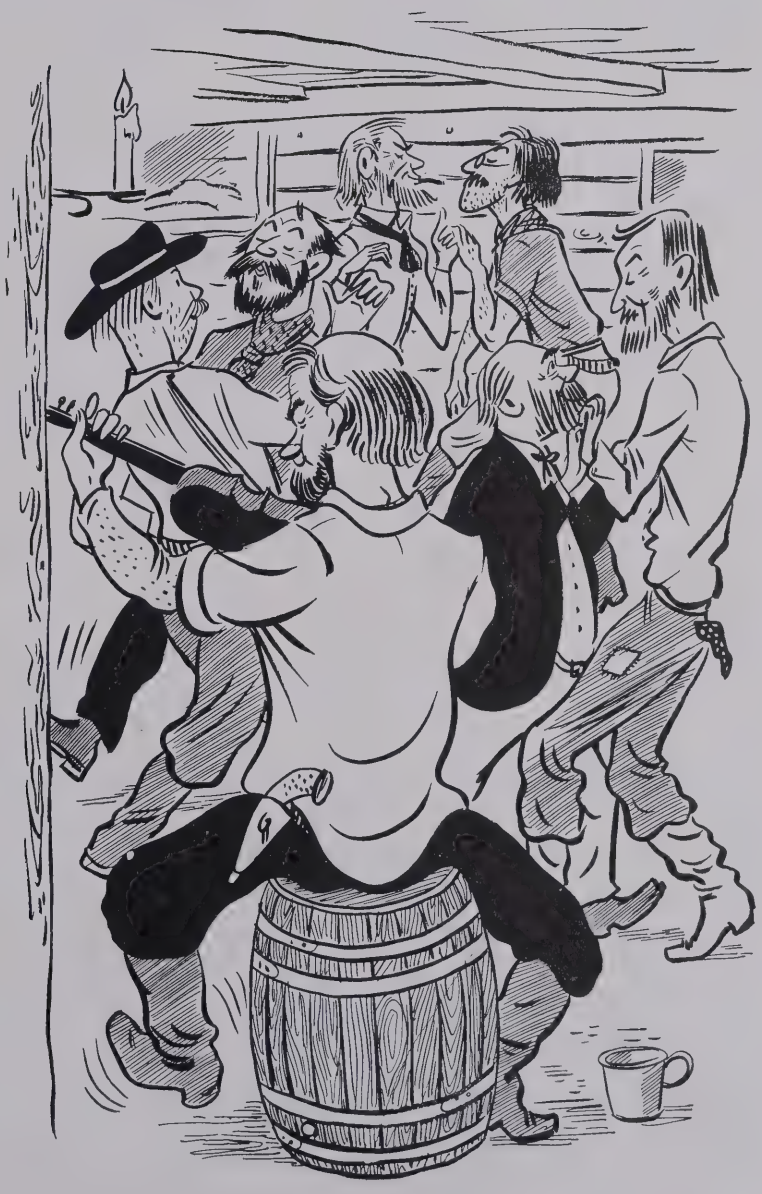
JUST LOOKING

"Now see here, little girl, I can't spend the whole day showing you penny toys. Do you want the earth with a little red fence around it for one cent " inquired Fannie Mae clerking.

Carol Kennedy: "Let me see it."

Speakers Table. Are you sleepy, Basil? All smiles. Turn around, Fussy, Hi! Warren. That wonderful evening! Did you have enough to eat? Let's all dance.

Activities



Y-Teens

Y-Teen is a national organization affiliated with the Young Women's Christian Association. The main purpose of the club is to "find and give the best."

Last summer Elnora Smith and Jeanette Fenstermaker were sent to Camp Mack for the summer confcrence of the Northern Indiana Y-Teens. The ideas they obtained at camp have proven very helpful to the club in all their activities. A district meeting of Northeastern Indiana YTeens was held in March with the South Bend club acting as host.

Seven committees were formed to take over the recreational period of the meeting. These committees were the creative, athletic, social, dramatic, music and art type, and the personal relations group. Each girl joined the one she was most interested in and helped with other functions is she was needed.

A successful year has been completed after starting with the initiation of the new members and ending with the installation of officers for the coming school year, 1949-1950.

STANDING: Mr. Shanaberger, Robert Dawson, Fred Housel, Arthur Myers.

Clean sports, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living are the characteristics of the Garrett Hi-Y Club. Each new member is initiated.

Special projects were a skating party, collection of money for the March of Dimes, and passing out rosters at the basketball games. Pencil sales were carried on to increase the surplus in the treasury.

Mr. Shanaberger leader; Richard Kruger, President; Robert Dawson, Vice- president; Melvin Diederich, Secretary; and John Walters, Treasurer.

LIBRARIANS

Keeping the books straight and accounted for is quite a task, but the librarians do a fine job. It is their duty to check out books, collect fines, and help students locate books. Each student serves as librarian during her study period. Thanks to Mrs. Sweeney and her assistants for the fine job they have done throughout the year.

The Blue Triangle club—the little sisters of the Y-Teens—consists of seventy freshmen and sophomore girls. Its purpose is "to find and give the best."

Selling Christmas cards was the main money-making project and a tea given for the parents was the main social event of the year.

Other social activities were a skating party and a Halloween party.

Leaders of the club are: Miss Gump and Mrs. Fouch, sponsors; Jessica Lewis, president; Doris Dolan, vice-president; Retha Bloom, treasurer; and Betty Andrews, secretary.

F. F. A.

The business of farming is the chief concern of F. F. A. boys. "To live and learn on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging." All F. F. A. boys remember these words.

The Garrett Chapter is in progress of carrying out a co-operative swine project.

FIRST ROW: E. Chittenden, B. Noel, J. Thrush, D. Jordon, D. Yarde, Mr. Bateman, F. Housel, R. Donley, C. Kuckuck.

THIRD ROW—Bob Grimes, William Stevens, Martin Woodcox, Douglas Shull, Robert Hammond, Ned Zimmerman, Thomas Jackson, Mr. Woodcox.

In the many organizations of Garrett High School, the Scout Club ranks high up the list for its creative activities.

Shop activities such as woodwork, leathercraft, basketry, and metalwork are school projects as well as scout projects used in the earning of merit badges.

The Scout Club is under the able guidance of Mr. Woodcox, Scoutmaster of Troop 162.

The Boy Scouts of America is one of the best boy-building organizations in the United States. It helps the boys to meet people and to do various things.

BOYS' CHORUS

Mr. Goble took over this year as director of Boys' Chorus which meets on Wednesday the 7th period. At the beginning of each period they were drilled on scales and other voice exercises. Mr. Goble grouped the boys into different parts, these being—1st tenor, 2nd tenor, 1st bass, and 2nd bass. After the second meeting Mr. Goble brought in music and the boys started to practice it.

FIRST ROW—Mr. Goble, Gareth Reese, Robert Baumgardner, Kenneth Hollis, Robert Foulk, William Mavity, Charles Waterbeck.

This club, composed of 80 girls from the four grades of high school, is under the direction of Mr. Coble. This group performed at Commencement and Baccalaureate services, and the Spring Concert.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"Bottoms Up" was the play presented April 7, 8 by the senior class. Jim Moses and Joan Helbert shared the lead. Mrs. Schlecht directed the play.

In short, the play revolved around Linda Howard's becoming campus queen. Through the "dirty work" of Betty Warren, Linda was made ineligible. Thanks to Bill Drake "Bulge" Doolittle and Algie Higgens, Linda was made eligible at the last minute and those in on the scheme to ruin her were reprimanded.

G. H. S. BAND

There were 56 members in G. H. S. Band this year. Mr. Merle Goble, who resides in Fort Wayne, replaced Mrs. Soudah as director.

A new feature of this year's band was the appointment of a student director from the solo cornets. Ronald Williams, a senior, was given this honor. He led the band when Mr. Goble could not be present.

The band played at all the home football and basketball games.

Officers of the band were: president, Marilyn Brown; vice-president, Ann Greenwalt; secretary, Susie Withrow; treasurer, Gretel Heinzerling; librarian, Gareth Reese; secretary to director, Carol Miser.

Marlene Partee, Pat Owens, Sue Stephenson, Madeline Miller and Joan Rimmel.

PAPER STAFF

BACK ROW—G. Reese, D. Boester, M. Brown, W. Walton, S. Baker, J. Moses, B. Mavity, S. Stephenson, B. Hofferman, W. Diederich.

Miss Evard led another group of Journalism students onto the threshold of professional Journalism this year. Bill Putt, editor, and Joan Carlin, managing editor, were the leaders who along with other members of the class edited and published a much-looked-forward-to paper every two weeks.

AEOLIAN STAFF

The Yearbook Staff has worked ardently to make this book a reality. Long hours of careful planning and diligent work on the part of those who were elected to assume the various positions were unselfishly consumed.

It is with great satisfaction that the staff presents the "'49ers" to the students and patrons of Garrett High School.

FIRST ROW—M. Bartels, M. Ashenfelter, S. Nicholas, M. Bloom, D. Boester, A. Warstler, S. DePew, A. Greenwalt, M. Brown.

OUT FRONT—J. Helbert, Asst. Editor; E. Smith, Photography Editor; S. McCarter, Editor-in-Chief; J. Carlin, Literary Editor.

Athletics

Formen and Blasters

Coaches Harman, Parks and Bateman

THE UNTIRING TRIO

Coach Parks and assistant coaches, Bateman and Harman, again have done the impossible. They start with three or four returning lettermen from any sport and they mold around these experienced boys several underclassmen and "presto chango", as if by some unknown power, a well balanced hard hitting team with truefighting spirit springs forth.

"A coach's job is never complete." Proof of this statement could be had by noting coach Parks as he moves onto the football field at two o'clock in the morning to water the grass so that the field will be ready for play on the following evening; or watchiing Mr. Bateman as he ponders for long hours over the athletic commission's books attempting to make both ends meet; or Mr. Harman as he stands in a drenching rain noting the offensive and defensive tactics of a team which Garrett intends to challenge.

Thus the unsung heroes of the gridiron, the basketball court, and the track oval strive to build through physical adeptness the type of citizens who will make tomorrow a better day than yesterday's good citizens made today.

The three yell leaders, Gwynn Wade, Beverly Travis, and Barbara King, deserve much credit for their fine job of leading the cheering section of G. H. S. They made up several new yells and conducted pep sessions. They kept the crowd yelling whether the team faced victory or defeat. We appreciated their fine spirit and so we give three cheers for our yell leaders.

Gwynn Wade, Beverly Travis, Barbara King.

Second Shift

FIRSTROW—G. Wappes, M. Clark, J. Williams, N. Zimmerman, J. Campbell, R. Baumgardner, D. Gentry, R. Chisholm, D. Shull, J. Waterbeck, W. Cramer.
STANDING—J. Feagler, B. Myers, L. Harper, H. Quince.

Varsity

THOMAS DeWITT—Sr. Quarterback, captain, three-year letterman. Tom was the fighting spirit of the team from starting whistle to final gun. Many glory-struck ball carriers were thwarted in their attempts to score by Tom's unerring tackles.

WILLIAM PUTT—Sr. Guard, three-year letterman. "Putter", the little boy with the big ideas, was always on the bottom of every pile-up: Though short and husky he proved the old adage "the bigger they are the harder they fall."

JAMES MOSES—Sr. Halfback, two-year letterman. Jim was the ever-ready ground gainer for last season. Due to an injured knee Jim was unable to play his best brand of football although he never failed to whip the prettiest touchdown passes an end could want.

DWAYNE HARRIS—Sr. Fullback, one-year letterman. It was "Blondie's" first year but he filled the spot to the letter. Blondie's specialties were off tackle pulnges and wide end runs, not to mention many connecting passes.

MARTIN WOODCOX—Sr. Center, two-year letterman. "Woody" didn't intend to be the center last year but when no one else could fill the bill, he proved his aleptness. Opposing teams found out too late that drives over center were useless.

CHARLES WATERBECK—Sr. Halfback, one-year letterman. "Charley" was the "hit-'em-low boy." When one opponent intended to get by Charley he had to have either two blockers or a head start.

JOHN WALTER—Sr. End, one-year letterman. "John Eddie" didn't see consistent action on the gridiron but when he was there he was consistently snagging passes for good gains.

JACK CLARK—Jr. End, three-year letterman. "Jack" was the pass catcher for the team. He had the knack to be just at the right place at the right time.

MAYNARD CLARK—Jr. Tackle, one-year letterman. "Sharky" was the "mighty mite" of the varsity. Although he was rather small for the tackle position, other teams soon found out he wasn't to be pushed around without a fight.

BENNETT NOEL—Jr. Guard, one-year letterman. Bennett was the husky farm lad on the team. Bennett's specialty was stopping quarterback sneaks.

HOWARD BENNETT—Jr. Tackle, one-year letterman. "Gomo" shared his position at tackle with Kenneth Hollis, but he bore the brunt of the attack of the opposing teams on the left side of the line.

Other junior lettermen were Wayne Diederich, Robert Dawson, and Donald Gentry.

Jack Feagler and Leslie Harper were the two freshmen who received football letters.

CENTER—Charles Waterbeck, halfback, is caught with an expression that is intended to take his antagonists off guard.

RIGHT—James Moses, halfback and passer, gets set for a lengthy heave

William Putt, right guard, flashing a grimace, which if stated means "thou shalt not pass", is most discouraging to opponents.

Robert Dawson, quarterback, does a fake hand-off as the fullback comes through on a power play.

Dwayne Harris, fullback, is ready to let go with a powerful boot.

Railroaders

49'ers Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of Nineteen hundred and forty-nine, being of sound minds (?), do hereby leave this, our last will and testament, to the following persons—

I, Shirley Baker, will my "permanent" permanent to Treva Greenwalt.

I, Marjorie Bartles, will to Pat Bartlett any interesting (?) objects in Butler, with the exception of one! May she have as much luck as I did.

I, Joann Blech, being of sound mind (?), do hereby will my ability to be the first girl in the class to get a diamond, to any girl who wants it.

To Mary Romano, I, Martha Bloom, will my "old" boyfriend in K'ville, whether he be man or "Mouse".

I, Doloris Boester, do will my "little black book" of addresses to Lois Kock. May she profit by it.

I, Joan Carlin, of doubtful mind, do hereby will to Audrey Kelly my ability to "make a darn fool" of myself all the time and not regret it later.

To Babby Dawson, I Esther Davidson, will my seat in economics class.

I, Sharon DePew, will my luck in beating the eight-thirty bell to anyone who needs it.

I, Maxine Fitch, will to DeVeta Miller my ability to 'get a man'.

To Byron Ferguson, I, Robert Donley, will my ability to get along with Mr. Bateman—most of the time!

I, Joan Gilbert, will my quietness to Donna Myers.

To Tommy Leech, I, Tommy DeWitt, will my ability to get along with everybody.

I, Wilma Godwin, will to any on-coming freshman the ability to remain a librarian throughout his or her four years in high school.

I, Jean Haffner, knowing that death is certain, will my chemistry episodes to the "Gone-but-not-forgotten" who accepts them.

To Damon Casey, I, Warren G. Hall, will my mechanical ability.

I, Dwayne Harris, will to anyone who might benefit from it, my ability to get mornings.

I, Joan Helbert, will to Marilyn Tuttle my ability to keep one boyfriend.

To anyone who wants it, I, Billy Hofferman, will my ability to keep quiet in class.

I, Charles Kuckuck, will to Fred Housel my ability to get to school just in time to "skin in" before the last bell.

I, Richard Kruger, will my Ford to anyone who wants it and may he have better luck with it than I did.

I, Punky Luttman, will my flirtatious ways and my ability to get along with Charles to Pat Smith.

I, Jeanette Fenstermaker, will to Jessica Lewis my love (?) for Kent Gordon. May she sit with him at games and keep him under control more than I did.

To any girl who needs it, I, Mary Maggert, will my ability to do housework.

I, Alvina Molargik, will to Carolyn Schurr, the success of getting a locker to which only you "yourself" know the combination.

I, Blaine Peters will to Maynard Clark my job of Advertising Salesman on the Maroon and Blue Staff with the hope that he will be as fortunate in getting out of school as I was.

To Jack Clark, I, William Mavity, will my front seat every Sunday while going to Bryan, to the show.

I, Sarah McCarter, wishing I was of sound mind, will to anyone who wants to go crazy, my position as Editor-in-Chief of the Aeolian.

I, Susanna Nicholas, will to Deloris Penland my ability not to miss any days of school while inhigh school.

To anyone who can use it, I, Bob Panning, will my extra year in high school.

I, Bertha Peterson, will my size four-an-one-half feet to Jo Ann Mitchell, so that the next time someone with small feet borrows her gym shoes, she won't trip over them.

I, Bill Putt, will to Don Gentry my curly hair, may it bring him a nice assortment of blondes, brunettes, and definitely red heads.

I, Jackie Roberts, hereby will to Phyllis Leech the companionship of Janet Limpert going to and from Garrett High everyday.

49'ers Last Will and Testament

I, Fannie Mae Rowe, do hereby will to Sue Anne Rowe, my favorite typewriter.

To Art Myers, I Norman Runion, will my skill in being a Shop Foreman.

I, Bob Schurr, will to any future band member who wants it, my horn—all forty-seven pounds of it!

I, Donna Shirk, will to Retha Bloom the fun (??) of going through two years of shorthand and typing.

I, Beverly Shutt, will my book locker in room thirteen to anyone who can get it open in a hurry—I couldn't. The locker iis number 603.

To my sister, Pat, I, Virginia Steigmeyer, will my typewriter in hopes that she will put it to better use than I did.

I, Elly Smith, will to any member in the junior class who wants it, my chemistry lab table. (Here's hoping you make smells that are as good as ours were.)

To Doloris Hollis, I, Carolyn Stroh, will my interest in Auburn boys.

I, Jack Thrush, will to James Houser my ability to fall down all the time while ice skating.

I, Annabelle Warstler, will to anyone who wants it, my ability to go steady and like it.

I, Ronnie Williams, will to Bro Roberts my abiility to get A's in band.

I, Martin G. Woodcox, do hereby will to William Earl Leech, my ability to "spike" a volley ball.

To Bennett Noel, I, Dale Yarde, will my ability to run a car into the ditch and not upset.

We, Ann Greenwalt and Sue Stephenson, will our column "Time Out" to any two prospective journalists who can scrape up the dirt."

I, Eula May Freeman, will my chemistry to anyone who is brave enough to take it and who has plenty of life insurance.

I, Marilyn Brown, wll to 'Billie' Walton my luck in getting an Auburn man.

I, Donald Jordan, will my ability to get A's from Bateman to George Tuttle.

I, Robert Hellesen, will my height to Howard Bonnett.

I, Marilyn Wyatt, will to Kay Cramer my ability to be a good and patient baby sitter.

I, Kenneth Sliger, will all my troubles with Mr. Bateman to any mischievous member of the F. F. A.

I, Basil Rowe, hereby bequeath my book of condensed novels to Frank Mossberger, so that he might better prepare hiis English book reports.

We, Janet Engle and Marilyn Conner, will our enjoyment of fast dancing to Janet Limpert and Pamela Freygang.

I, Meredith Poer, will to Dennis Casey my size, so he won't have to ride in my pocket.

To George Mayfield, do I, James Moses, will my ability to be in school and other places at the same time.

I, John Walter, will to "Duke" Harper some of my height.

I, Charles Waterbeck, will my football uniform to George Wappes, also my bruises and scratches.

To Anita Dills, I Marciine Ashenfelter, will my ability to blush.

We, Melvin Diederich and Arnold Dose, will our ability to play the accordian to Tommy Diederich.

I, Royce Higgins, will my noon lunches at the Squeeze-Inn to Pat Lonergan.

To our teachers for the past four years, do we, the Class of '49, will our thanks and appreciation for being so patient with us.

To the student body, do we, the Class of '49, will our determination to learn as much as we possibly could—without studying too hard.
